

New York City's Puerto Rican Day Parade To Be Aired on EarthCam

June 11, 2009

New York, NY (CNS) - New York City's internationally famous Puerto Rican Day Parade, a tribute the Puerto Rican culture, will be aired on EarthCam live Sunday, June 14 starting at 11 AM EDT.

EarthCam (www.earthcam.com), the Internet's premier global webcam network, will focus its Fifth Avenue Parade Cam on participants.

The streaming cam is located one block from the famous St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue and 51st street.

More than two million spectators and 80,000 participants are expected to attend the annual tribute to a large portion of New York City's population.

The parade is the culmination of a series of events including films, poetry readings, musical performances, sports competitions and a street festival celebrating the richness of Puerto Rican Culture.

After the National Puerto Rican Day Parade the camera will resume 24/7 live views of Fifth Avenue, where it has been located since its launch earlier this year.

For more information, visit EarthCam at www.earthcam.com.