

Project management drive launched

February 28, 2010

Collaboration, Management and Control Solutions (CMCS), a leading Portfolio project management (PPM) firm, has launched a training campaign on advanced tools and skills to meet demand for world-class PM capabilities.

The company is the first organization to be authorized by Oracle University, the global educational arm of enterprise software company Oracle Corp, to deliver certified Oracle Primavera training programmes in the Middle East, a statement said.

The company will commence its regional tour in Doha on February 28 at the W Doha Hotel along with local partner Nasser Bin Nawaf & Partners Holdings, part of the NBK Group.

The campaign will cover Egypt, Abu Dhabi, Kuwait, Dubai, the KSA, Jordan and Oman throughout the year.

“As one of the world’s most project-driven markets, the Mena region has to ensure that it has access to the best PM tools to maintain its competitive edge,” said Bassam Samman, CEO and founder, CMCS.

“Through our educational campaign we aim to enhance PM competency throughout the region, particularly when it comes to PPM,” he added.

“While PM methods are used to properly manage projects, PPM enables organizations to select the right projects, which is a very critical activity given today’s tight markets. We want to promote these two concepts so that the region can excel in both project selection and execution.”

During its year-long campaign, CMCS will emphasize the importance of solutions from Oracle Primavera, Synchro and EarthCam, the premier international network of live public access webcams, in optimizing PM in general and PPM in particular. – TradeArabia News Service
