

Aquarium Penguin Webcam Voted One Of Best Of 2007

posted December 18, 2007

The Tennessee Aquarium Penguins' Rock webcam has been selected by EarthCam as one of the 25 most interesting webcams of 2007. According to EarthCam, "The Penguins' Rock webcam was selected from thousands of nominees by a panel of VIP judges and EarthCam producers."

This 9th annual list includes the most unique and compelling webcams in the world. Selected from thousands of nominees, winners were judged on quality of image, uniqueness of content and overall technical achievements in webcam technology.

Thanks to the AT&T Foundation - the corporate philanthropy organization of AT&T, the Penguins' Rock webcam at the Tennessee Aquarium has been seen from the desert of Iraq to the rainforest of South America. In addition, AT&T's Exceleator grant has funded wireless audiovisual technology which allows the Aquarium's penguin-keepers and educators to deliver interactive educational programs from inside the exhibit.

"The AT&T Exceleator grant is making an impact at the Tennessee Aquarium every day," said Charlie Arant, the Aquarium's president and chief executive officer.

A crowd of gentoo penguins. Click to enlarge.